Steady Progress Towards

E. And A. Division

Improvements in the Pennsylvania railroad's freight traffic locally and on neighboring divisions had assumed impressive proportions today, and confident E. & A. division officials, hopeful that Old Man Depression has been shaken off his props for good, issued new announcements that circulated fresh cheer throughout the district.

Briefly, they reported these Pennsylvania developments:

Workmen engaged in "heavy duty" work at the seventh ward car repair shops went on full-time duty, increasing their work from a 10-days-a-month to a 21-days-a-month schedule.

A new group of 35 furloughed workmen—most of them shopmen—went to work today in the car shop and enginehouse.

Between 35 and 40 furloughed brakemen and between 15 and 20 furloughed firemen from different points were returning to duty at once, with indications that more will be called back shortly.

Normal Times Returning.

Superintendent C. W. Van Nott's office announced the good news, which is a strong criterion that normal times are gradually returning.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Several of the larger buildings on Washington street have been freshened and brightened up recently with a new coat of paint. It is hoped that this procedure becomes contagious. Many other buildings would look good in a new coat of paint.

Larger payrolls are beginning to become evident in increased business around the city, many merchants are reporting.

According to Pa New's calendar, tomorrow is St. Swithin's Day.

There is still an abundant need of some weed cutting along the streets and on vacant properties in this city.

There is considerable comment, mostly adverse, at the present time concerning the manner in which the West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river is being repaired. The plans call for one way drives at each side of the roadway, with an open space of some nine feet in width in the center, with a small iron fence about it. It is the contention of those complaining that the public fought for years against a center ridge in the Pennsylvania overhead just west of the bridge because of the danger to motorists and that this will prove more of a menace than this was.

There is not nearly as much tourist camping being done this summer as in former years, according to a man

The report now being studied by the staff under Col. George R. Spaulding, division chief, concerns only the canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers as far as Struthers, O. It is a separate report from that of the barge canal linking Pittsburgh and Northwest Pennsylvania industrial towns with Lake Erie in the vicinity of Ashtabula, O., Bowden said.

Police Report Stills Are Found In Mission Here

About eleven o'clock this morning, Constable Frank Connors and city police officers visited the Castle Hill Mission, 233 North Vine street. They report the visit resulted in the discovery of a fifty gallon still, which had just been in operation but was cooling off, a hundred gallon still still in operation, seventeen forty-eight gallon barrels of mash, ten gallons of finished liquor and other liquor making equipment in the basement of the place. Several pints of finished liquor were found in the living apartments of the home, police say.

L. Schmidt, superintendent of the mission, his wife and daughter and Charles Brown, 306 Vine street, who jumped from a window and was running away when apprehended, were brought to police headquarters. Schmidt and Charles Brown are being held for Constable Frank Connors, pending action. The women were not detained.

Superintendent Schmidt and the members of his family claim they rented the basement and a part of the building to two men, one of whom is believed to be Brown; but assert they had no knowledge of what the renters were doing.

The still in operation was situated in what had the appearance of a bekeoven. There was a pump equipment found by which the mash was forced into the stills.

The police also took possession of a wire ring on which there were several hundred keys of all kinds.

Authorities Almost Completely In Dark Concerning Negotiations

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—The kidnapers of John J. O'Connell, Jr., 24-year-old nephew of the politically powerful O'Connell clan today communicated with Dan O'Connell, his uncle and gave assurances that the young National Guardsman was "all right."

A request for a new list of possible intermediaries was made in the communication. It was the first word received from the kidnapers in four days.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—The John J. O'Connell, Jr., kidnaping, now seven days old, settled down today into sort of a grim poker game between the relatives of the victim and the abductors.

With a human life at stake, the game was proceeding slowly—agonizingly. The victim's politically powerful uncles, Dan and Ed O'Connell, sat back and waited—eager for the kidnapers' next move. The O'Connells, harassed and worried, had no alternative but to wait.

When a favorable "break" in the case will come was a question neither the O'Connells nor the authorities could forecast with any degree of certainty. It might come at any time—and perhaps not for days.

Police Know Nothing.

Officially, the police "knew nothing." It is a strange fact that the authorities are almost completely in the dark as to what is transpiring behind the scenes. So far as known they are uncertain how far the O'Connells have gone in dealings with the kidnapers.

The press, striving to get at the facts, is blocked at every hand and confronted with a maze of conflicting rumors. About all that is definitely known is that the kidnapers demand a ransom of $250,000.

Family Quarrel Ends In Shooting At Jackson
Ave. Ext. Home

FRANK DUBOIS IS HELD BY POLICE

Tony Marinelli, 24, Jackson Avenue Extension, is in the New Castle Hospital, with a bullet wound in the left lung, sustained last night shortly before midnight, at the home of his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeLanzo, with whom he resided, when his half-brother, Frank Dubois, fired a shot, apparently with the intention of hitting Henry DeLanzo, a brother-in-law of Marinelli, during a quarrel which seemed to involve the DeLanzo family group.

At New Castle Hospital today, Marinelli was reported as being in a serious condition, but with a chance of recovery, if no complications arise. The shooting was done with a thirty-two calibre revolver, which Dubois claims he was carrying as a matter of protection from three men, one from Youngstown and two from New Castle, who had threatened his life.

Dubois was apprehended on Wilson avenue some distance from the scene of the shooting by Officers Thomas and Suber, on their return from New Castle Hospital, where they had taken the injured man.

The shooting occurred outside the city. The police were called by Dorcy J. McKee of 1412 Jackson avenue, who stated that there was a man at his place who had been shot. The officers found Marinelli, who had walked 400 yards from the scene of the shooting at that place and took

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 14.—This fellow Roosevelt can close the banks, he can tell industry how much to pay, and how many hours to work. He can hold back the sun, he can evaporate the water, but when he demands that a postmaster has to be able to read, that's carrying dictatorship too far.

When he takes the postmasters out of politics he is monkeying with the very fundamentals of American political parties. How is the army going to fight if they don't get any of the loot?

I tell you this suggestion of his is bordering on treason, the idea of a postmaster being able to read. It looks like an undemocratic move to favor the college man.

I tell you he will ruin the Democratic party. We mustn't let him get away with it.

Arrested After Telephone Call

Wealthy Alton, Ill., Banker Is Still Being Held By Kidnapers

MAN UNDER ARREST POSED AS GO-BETWEEN

(International News Service)
ALTON, Ill., July 14.—Arthur M. Cooper, of St. Louis, was being grilled by police at Edwardsville, Ill., today in connection with the kidnaping of August Luer, 78-year-old Alton banker. His 22-year-old son, Arthur, Jr., was also being held. Cooper was arrested by St. Louis police following a telephone call from St. Louis to Mayor Thomas Butler, of Alton.

According to Mayor Butler, Cooper represented himself as an intermediary for the kidnapers, and declared that if one of the wealthy banker's sons be named on ransom committee and $50,000 cash were ready to turn over to the abductors, Luer might be released within 18 hours.

Cooper, who is heavily indebted to the Luer estate, had been casually suspected following the abduction, and his hotel telephone in St. Louis tapped by police.

him to the hospital. Mr. McKee having found him in front of his home. Apparently there had been an argument between Marinelli and his mother-in-law, which resulted in Henry and Thomas DeLanzo, her sons, giving Marinelli a beating.

Got His Gun

About the time the trouble was over, Dubois appeared on the scene, he being attracted, he claims, by the trouble that was going on. He went in, throwing his gun outside and of his fists. He claims that Anthony DeLanzo, the father-in-law of his half-brother, pointed a gun at him and he went out and got his gun.

Things went from bad to worse and Dubois fired his gun, when he thought the others were going after him, he claims. This is denied by the members of the DeLanzo family. According to Henry DeLanzo, the bullet that wounded Marinelli, his brother-in-law, just missed his left arm.

The police say that there were two exploded shells in the revolver of Dubois, which he had on him when apprehended and evidence that a third had been snapped but failed to explode.

The police are holding Dubois, whom they will turn over to the county authorities, pending the completion of the investigation. Dubois resides a few doors away from the scene of the shooting on Wilson Avenue Extension.

"We are waiting—just waiting for news from the kidnapers," was the brief comment of Daniel P. O'Connell, the really authoritative spokesman.

John J. O'Connell, Sr., who is well known in Albany, has been striving on his own hook to establish a contact with the kidnapers. London Parley Recess To Start About July 27

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 14.—The World Economic Conference will adjourn—or to put it more optimistically—recess about July 27.

The steering committee of the conference today asked subcommittees to submit their final reports by July 28.

The following day a plenary session of the conference will be held, committees of experts probably will be appointed, and the chief delegates will leave, possibly never to return.

"As long as conditions remain as they are, what's the use."

He expressed satisfaction over his trip to Washington where he discussed with President Roosevelt and cabinet officers the part Pennsylvania hopes to take in carrying out provisions of the industrial recovery act.

The pressure of the public works program necessitates the governors' presence in Pennsylvania and for this reason he has definitely decided not to attend the governors' convention on the west coast next week.

He planned to leave this afternoon to spend the week-end at his country estate in Milford.

Work of Permanent Value.

The first distributions, Ickes said, are for projects which qualify within the intent of congress "that only work of permanent and real social value shall be embarked upon."

The board now has before it a vast number of additional projects which may or may not meet with their requirements, said Ickes.

"Absence of these projects from the first list does not of necessity disqualify them. The board wished to act quickly in making work available for many and to that end eliminated controversial projects from its first submission to the president."

The federal projects, it was estimated, would provide one month's work for 258,200 men on a 30-hour week.

Of the $64,561,542 awarded for government works, $53,042,319 went to the interior department, and of this amount $38,000,000 is for Boulder dam. Other reclamation projects were allocated $6,480,000.

The new projects will include $1,344,480 for Indian schools and hospitals.

BIRDS OF CITY COME INTO OWN

Billowy coos of avian joy should emanate from the throats of all New Castle birds today.

For—has not a beautiful bird-bath been set up on the public square? And will there not be others throughout the city on the various public parks? We ask you, now isn't that enough to make the birds sing like they oughta sing—chirp, chirp, chirp and chirp, chirp, chirp?

When they take their daily immersions in the new and pretty tubs, they can thank their city fathers, and not their stars.

State Employment Shows Big Gain

Report Is Based On Survey Of Records Submitted By 776 Plants

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Continuing its unseasonal advance, employment in Pennsylvania showed a further gain of 6.7 per cent from May to June and payrolls increased 14.9 per cent in the same period, according to a report today by the Philadelphia federal Reserve bank.

The report was based on a survey of records submitted by 776 plants employing more than 25,000 workers with an aggregate payroll of $3,955,000.

"All manufacturing groups share in these gains," the report stated. "These increases are significant, inasmuch as factory employment usually declines a little at this time. For the first time in over three years the total indices of employment and payrolls were larger than in the same month of the previous year."

Fancywork and chat filled in the hours that followed.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB PLANS PARTIES

One of the featured events of the season for the East Side Garden Club members, a new organization that has proven most active, was the outing held at Cascade Park Wednesday.

A swimming party in the Glenn pool was an attraction of the early morning hours that many enjoyed and at 1 o'clock a tureen luncheon was served in the grove. Covers marked for full attendance and two new members Mrs. K. E. Butler and Mrs. Homer Matthews. Special guests who shared were Mrs. Hannah Gwilym, Mrs. A. F. Martin and Emma Lou Smith. The remainder of the afternoon was spent informally with a general discussion.

Plans were made for two more parties, the first to take place on Wednesday, July 19 at the Wesley Remley place of Wilmington Junction in the form of a 6:30 o'clock supper. Families will be guests on this occasion and the committee in charge comprises Mrs. J. E. Brain, chairman, Mrs. Homer Matthews, Mrs. J. Albert Wilson and Mrs. L. E. Cramer. The second party is scheduled for Wednesday, August 9 at the home of Mrs. Fred Remley, 1029 East Washington street. This is to be a breakfast on the lawn starting at 9 a. m. with the following committee on arrangements: Mrs. Fred Remley, Mrs. J. Q. Wilson and Mrs. J. Elder Brian.

Birthday Picnic

George Cartwright, 837 Lathrop street celebrated his seventy fifth birthday Thursday and a birthday party was given by his family in the form of a picnic at Rambler's Rest. The date was also the birthday of his grandson Billy Clark, and this was celebrated at the same time.

Two birthday cakes centered the table, one for the honored guest and one for the little chap and gifts were presented them by the members of the family.

The members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cartwright and family of Oil City, Mr. and Mrs. David Jenkins and family of Beaver Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins and family. Special guests were Margaret McCaskey and James Boughter.

Fifty hundred was the diversion of the evening and when play was concluded prizes were awarded Mrs. Marian Lackey and Catherine McCreary.

I PREFER TO FORGET

NO, I DON'T remember. I've forgotten them entirely. As far as I'm concerned, they never happened. . . . Yes, it's true I have a fairly good memory for useful facts and pleasant experiences, but not for anything else. . . . But I don't remember those silly things that you remember about me. Mine's protective memory that declines to embarrass me.

So I don't remember how little girls used to frighten me. . . . I don't remember that blonde child whom I adored and who didn't know I existed. . . . I don't remember the times I played in amateur theatricals and made a mess of them. . . . I don't remember the job I got—and loaded on it—and was caught—and fired by my uncle the second day. . . . I don't remember a couple of fights I had and how I was licked; I don't remember crying with rage, either. . . . I don't remember chewing my finger nails or being superstitious. . . . I don't remember how scared I was the first time I went near the front in the war.

No, I don't remember any of it. . . . I don't remember ever being mean. Or lazy. Or selfish. Or short-sighted. Or hypocritical. Or snobbish. Or stupid. Or vain. Or just plain dumb. . . . I might remember such things about somebody else, but not about me—oh, never about me! . . . Me, I'm perfect. Me, I've never done such things. Or if I have—I'm not SAYING I have—my memory absolutely declines to remember them. . . . They're out—like a throbbing tooth or a tack in a tire.

My memory is my friend. My loyal, attentive, adoring friend, and it protects me from shame and discomforting and burning ears. . . . My subconscious? Well, that's another matter. He's a different sort of fellow who declines to let any sleeping dog lie and is always stirring up my faults and failures and defining me to explain and justify my actions. . . . He's my severest critic, my gadfly, my pestiferous friend who will not let me be fatuously satisfied.

And if you ask which of these I value most, I'd say: "I like my friendly memory better, but respect my nagging subconscious more—and he's the lad I'll take along on any long, hard trip into the wilderness of life. Because he's my truest friend who does not wish me merely to be happy—he wants me to be wise!"

DEFERENCE TO ELDERLY

Do you show the deference you should to aged persons who are respectable?

Instead of you say and do things that are likely to bring ridicule to them?

Because of their age they cannot strike back and so you use them as a butt for what you consider your own superior intelligence.

You may not even go as far as this but you leave a deep hurt from your discourtesies.

The person of good breeding never fails in courtesy toward an elder person, no matter what the provocation.

Good breeding demands that a person hold his own self-respect.

Good breeding demands that a person show courtesy toward old age—get that.

You may not be well bred but you do as a well-bred person does and show kindness and consideration and respect for the aged.

Not a patronizing sort of courtesy but a genuine kindness.

The well-mannered elderly person, irrespective of wealth or station gets too little from the younger generation.

To set back on the shelf with curt and even snappy replies to their criticisms hurt older persons and not only robs them of joys they might have, but shows the one administering the rebuffs is not what he may pretend to be.

VACATION

Out in the open air I stroll,
Alone with my beleaguered soul
And seek to find through walls of grime
And the oppressive tasks of time
A gateway out of which to go
To beauties mortals ache to know.

Beyond the petty things of life,
The bickering, the selfish strife
I long to pause awhile to rest
And give myself to what is best;
To set my prisoned spirit free
From all that hails and hinders me.

Moonlight and stars and silvered lake
Lure me old hatreds to forsake;
To seek some crevice through the line
Which hems this battered soul of mine
And slip away, as if on wings,
From Time's confused and trivial things.

The soul of me would break away
From all that holds it fast by day
To dream and fancy and to share
An hour unstained by selfish care.
A prisoner, escaped and free,
Though soon I shall re-captured be.

Two European editors recently engaged in a duel with swords. When one slightly wounded the other on the cheek, honor was satisfied and they shook hands.

In this country, we have a much better method.

When two editors wish to fight a duel, instead of using swords which are uncomfortably sharp, they use pens and ink—or typewriters.

American editors realize that a sword is a dangerous weapon, especially in unskilled hands. The rank and file of editors in this country know very little about handling a sword, and for that reason they wisely refuse to employ this weapon in fighting duels.

If an American editor were to engage in a duel with a sword it is more than likely, when he got to swishing the thing around, he'd accidentally hurt his adversary with it, or—worse still—cut himself.

It's much more satisfactory for our editors to fight their battles with pen and ink. If the pen stands the strain and the ink holds out he can prolong the duel indefinitely with his rival.

Or, if the editor finds fighting a duel with a pen too laborious, he can lead back in his office chair, deposit his feet on the desk, light a fragrant cigar and fight his duel by dictating to his stenographer.

Thus he can deliver many a verbal jab and thrust in the vulnerable and sensitive reputation of his antagonist—and when the duel is over, the office isn't all messed up with blood.

There is no gore, no discomfort, no physical exertion—nothing but a deluge of bitter and acrimonious words, which are regarded by the reading public as so many boloney.

It would be a good idea if the administration would insist on writing into the various industrial codes a clause forbidding discrimination against colored labor. This is badly needed, particularly in the south, where many of the manufacturing

In many cases wages for colored labor at the same tasks are lower than for white labor. This is manifestly unjust and ought to be corrected.

Now it can be done by federal action and it is the time to do it. Once the power of the federal government is lined up against discrimination there will be less of it.

Public Works Organization Expected To Give Real Relief

People Recognize Certain Restrictions, Particularly In Relation To Useful Purposes Of Various Projects To Be Aided

As the public works program of the Federal Government takes form it is seen as a probable means of greatly reducing unemployment in the country and the final blow at the depression. It is found that restrictions and safeguards, from a view to obtaining the greatest possible benefits from the expenditure of billions of dollars. It is also felt that each project undertaken will materially improve conditions for auxiliary industries.

"It is expected by government officials that 100,000 men will be building or repairing highways within six weeks," says the NASHVILLE BANNER, with the advice that "the benefits will not be confined to giving employment to these men, nearly all of whom are now idle; increased activity in mining, manufacturing, and industries supplying materials for the highways is bound to result." The BLOOMINGTON PANTAGRAPH states that "the character of acceptable suggestions for government aid is indicated in the wording of the law—construction, repair and improvement of public highways and parkways, conservation of natural resources, development of water power, or any projects of the character heretofore constructed or carried on either directly by public authority or with public aid, to serve the general interests."

"Many, if not most of the projects suggested," according to the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, "are old friends, matters put forward from time to time and laid over, sometimes regretfully, for future consideration. Every one of these now requires analysis by competent planners, as to its individual merits and its part in the general pattern."

The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD finds assurance that "there are to be no loans for the pipe dreams of visionaries," for "whatever is done with Federal aid must be socially desirable." That paper believes that "a spurious form of relief, a mere stop-gap in depression suffering, would follow the aimless employment of men, at government expense, to do unnecessary jobs."

The MORRISTOWN DOMINION-NEWS understands that "the President himself is ready to check proposals very carefully, to make sure that only worthwhile construction is undertaken."

It is pointed out by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS that "already 250,000 are in forestation camps," and "thus the first phase of the national experiment in supplying work and wages is being carried out successfully."

The OAKLAND TRIBUNE comments: "The federal program includes upward of 400 million dollars for highways, grants 30 per cent of the cost of other projects outright, and permits local governments to borrow the remainder of the cost at low interest rates. In the main the projects to be financed will be on 70 per cent borrowed money. Government aid and present price of materials offer arguments for construction of those projects which are really needed."

"Two features of the program," in the opinion of the FORTH WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, "are vastly important. These are the requirement that 25 per cent of funds allotted for work on federally recognized highways shall be expended for extension of routes through municipalities, and the stipulation that precedence in general construction shall be given to completing pavement of gaps in existing federal aid highways. The unwise and inequitable provisions in previous federal highway aid laws which forbade the use of federal funds within municipalities is thus dispensed with."

Maryland's demand that "highways for traffic passing through the State should be viewed largely as national projects and be financed chiefly by the Federal government," is taken up by the BALTIMORE SUN, with the suggestion that "the argument is plausible, but it may be difficult to persuade Washington to accept it, since application of the rule throughout the country would involve an enormous outlay."

"Back of the program is the idea of getting frozen industries in motion again," says the GLENDALE (Continued on Page Seven)

AND THE

Mud Puddles

THE FIRST ONE

Just a quarter of a century ago, George F. Baker gave Wall Street the cheer of the season. The panic of 1907 had passed; but effects lingered everywhere. Wall Street and its public were bravely trying to feel and show confidence, but "was a task far from easy. There was that frayed old conventionality of grieving over lack of leadership and then along came the announcement over the stock tickers:

"First Security Bank declares 100 per cent extra dividend—its capital stock paid for by the $10,000,000 extra dividend—new organization (to handle First National Bank Investments) owned outright by the Bank's stockholders."

Spontaneously, Wall Street was aroused. A millionaire project to deal in securities. Interest flourished into enthusiasm. Leadership? Why here it was—and such a leadership—George F. Baker leadership.

Safe Driving "Hint"

By The National Safety Council

KNOW YOUR TRAFFIC LAWS
Ignorance is sometimes bliss, but not when it comes to state traffic laws and local ordinances. Ignorance of the law excuses no driver, either legally or morally, for a violation and these should also be observed rigidly.

It is every driver's duty to know and to obey all city and state traffic laws. Moreover, such knowledge is just about as essential to your safety as the actual mechanics of driving.

Certain temporary conditions often call for special traffic regulations and these also be observed rigidly.

If you plan a trip through neighboring states where the laws may be slightly different from those in your own, familiarize yourself with the regulations at your very first opportunity.

DROP 3,000 FROM COUNTY'S RELIEF

Reduce Rolls By That Many Persons Since March,
Report Shows

At the close of June, the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board was furnishing relief to 3,000 fewer persons than it was during March of this year, Dr. G. S. Bennett, relief board head, revealed today.

The board's June report to state headquarters will show that approximately 22,000 persons are receiving aid today as compared to 25,000 last March. An even greater drop is anticipated during July.

There were 4,616 cases, both family and individual, reported as being taken care of when the last month closed.

Industrial conditions, while a boon to the county's economy in June, are expected to make a more impressive showing on the July summary. Restoration of several days must be made before the beneficial effects of the change are seen, it is believed.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Scouts Show How To Devour Wieners

Girls Roast Wieners Over Outdoor Fire At Taylor Cabin Last Night

Mahoningtown's Girl Scouts—about twenty-five of them—had a wiener roast at Ruth Taylor's cabin Thursday night.

Gathering at seven o'clock at the cabin with their leaders, Mrs. E. W. Guy and Miss Lucille McGuire, the girls spent the rest of the evening roasting wieners, with an occasional marshmallow over a roaring outside fire. They sang some and played a few games but decided that they were too "full" for much strenuous play. With that they adjourned.

not to meet again until the middle or latter part of August.

Six guests were present for the evening—Gloria DeWolf, of Detroit, Mich., Ida Jean Mitchell, Grace Mettler, Anna Marie McFattie, Harriet Leichty and Phyllis Ringer.

Park Of Ward To Have Five Cement Seats, Bird Bath

The city park on North Liberty street will have not only five cement benches, duplicates of the benches just recently set out on the Washington street public square, but it is to have a bird bath deluxe.

The cement base for the bird bath has already been put in place and will be put in use today or tomorrow.

Employees of the city were here yesterday engaged in preparing places for the cement seats.

The new park equipment is being made by city employees in the old central fire station on East street.

CLEAN HANDS HONORED.
Report from the Mahoningtown library is to the effect that the "clean hands ruling" for juvenile borrowers is proving very successful.

The youngsters understand that the new books go only to those who have clean hands when they come after them and that privileges are retracted if the books are brought back smudged and covered with finger print specimens.

The young borrowers arrive regularly at the library, proudly display their clean hands, and take away their choice of the new books.

S. C. W. BREAKFAST

DINOSAUR TRACKS HAVE DISAPPEARED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 14.—All but one of the dinosaur tracks are gone from the Yocumtown district of York county.

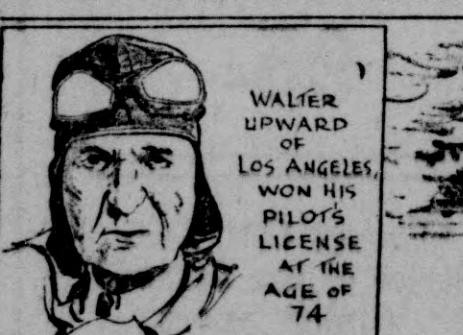

They had been there for 180,000-200 years, according to Dr. George H. Ashley, state geologist, who made a survey trip recently, but the fossilized tracks of the prehistoric monsters—with a single exception—that were known to have been here several months ago are either lost, strayed, stolen, or shattered by dynamite used on a road construction job.

(International News Service)
JACKSON, Wyo.—The season's fishing honors recently went to J. S. Sabin of Ogden, Utah, who caught a trout weighing 19 pounds, two ounces, on the Snake river below the Moran dam. The fish, a Mackinaw trout, is said to be the largest of that variety ever caught in the Snake river.

Scout Camp Roster For Week Ahead Is Filled To Capacity

Troops To Tax Camp Phillips
Next Week—Expect Rush
Until August

The local Boy Scout office announces that it can take no more registrations for scout camp next week, as that period is completely filled up with troops already registered. However, there is still some room remaining in the last week of scout troop camping, (July 22-29) and it is urged that troops which have not already registered for that period and desire to do so, make reservations as soon as possible with the council office.

Such an enrollment is very gratifying to scout leaders as it shows that troops under competent leadership and with previous training, are taking to the troop camping scheme. Troops not having had a strong outdoor program will need mass camping, but experienced leaders, trained in outdoor work, are giving fine leadership in troop camping. It shows the necessity of more men taking training in this important branch of scoutcraft, the camping program.

(Calif.) NEWS-PRESS, while the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS feels that "the main purpose is to provide employment and to provide it as soon as possible."

"There will be need," contends the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "of extreme caution to prevent abuses, waste, recklessness and profiteering and a job of vast proportions will be imposed upon administrators. That explains the erection of complicated machinery of oversight, such as Special Board for Public Works to which all state and municipal projects as well as Federal enterprises must be submitted, a sub-committee to sift these, a corps of State Administrators yet to be appointed, the delegation of the United States Employment Service to supervise compliance with Federal conditions in choice of workers, the selection of employment service inspectors in each State for this purpose, and the creation of a special investigating corps to examine into contracts and prices. The fact to be remembered in shaping policy as to the size of immediate expenditure is that every dollar of outlay, necessary as well as unnecessary will be a future tax burden. Gauging actual need correctly is a matter of vast importance to the taxpayer."

"Alert rural communities," thinks the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, "will not neglect the opportunity to obtain long-sought consolidated school plants," and The Express sees "highway and school development going forward together." On the subject of efficiency, the HAVERHILL GAZETTE finds it "reassuring that every effort will be made to guard against corruption or graft," while the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS holds that spending the dollars honestly "is the biggest responsibility ever undertaken in this country."

the SIOUX FALLS ARGUS-LEADER advises learning early "the damage that can be done by politicians who are interested in rewarding themselves and their friends." "There are two schools of thought on spending," states the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION. "One, headed and championed by Director of the Budget Douglas, wants to make sure the largest possible proportion of the money advanced to States and municipalities comes back to the government. Its members consider this to be an all-important prelude to making loans. The other group, containing most of the 'brain trust' members, wants to see the money put into action without the slightest avoidable delay—its members are not particularly interested in whether the government gets the money back earlier, later—or never." The Times-Union feels sure that "Mr. Roosevelt will listen to both and act as he sees fit." The DES MOINES TRIBUNE refers to the fact that the Budget Director has been called a "penny pincher" and adds that "the American taxpayer may look to his official 'penny pincher' with much more to deadly seriousness than amused disinterest."

On Mr. Douglas' belief that States receiving money should be required to balance their budgets, the HARTFORD TIMES contends that "if the Douglas suggestion should be followed, nothing like the three billions can be used." The Times referring to the opposition view that "relatively short scrutiny to the nature of the projects should be given." Describing Mr. Douglas' ideas as based on "a conservative leaning in the hope that recovery will come rapidly enough to avoid some expenditures," the SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) UNION concludes that "it cannot be predicted whether the desired recovery will come without some acceleration from the emergency measures."

With "protection against waste," and "vigilance as to contracts and handling of funds," the KANSAS CITY STAR believes that "it is entirely reasonable to expect that the whole program will serve the fine purposes for which it was designed."

Reports Fifty Per Cent Of Pupils Have Defects

Justification for the services of a medical inspector in the public schools is found in the annual report of Dr. Mary J. Baker, to the school board, for the past school year. In the report are found many cases of disease and deficiency which were cleared up before they reached a dangerous stage and the ultimate results of the inspections can never be fully known.

During the year Dr. Baker examined 8593 pupils and of this number 4335 were found to have defects, or over 50 per cent. These defects in many cases were minor but in a number serious trouble was apparent. There were 58 cases of defective hearing and ear diseases. In 3054 pupils the tonsils were found defective, while 1538 had defective vision.

Heart trouble was found in 77 cases, and 1754 had nasal obstructions. Twelve were afflicted with a nervous disease, thirty with orthopedic deformities, 9 had skin diseases, 611 were found to be suffering from subnormal nutrition, 406 had enlarged thyroid glands, and 61 are classed as miscellaneous.

There were 283 vaccinations made, 1684 toxin-anti-toxin injections given, and 1586 Schick tests made.

The report of Dr. Boober, school dentist shows 1994 examinations, of which 1875 had deciduous extractions made, and 254 permanent extractions. Many teeth were filled, 674 with amalgam, 88 with cement, 2 with gutta percha, and 23 with silicate.

Unemployed Men Over 45 Having Toughest Break

Men Over 45 Are Called "Untouchables Of America," By Rep. Dave Lewis

(International News Service) CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 14.—Unemployed men past 45 years of age constitute "the untouchables of America," Rep. David J. Lewis (D) of Maryland declared at the institute of public affairs conducted by the University of Virginia.

Lewis described unemployment as a "chronic condition," pointing out that in the peak boom year 1929, 2,000,000 American workers were jobless.

"There are indications that the number will be 4,000,000 at the end of the depression," he stated. "The president speaks of a 'forgotten man.' There are now some 12,000,000 of them standing waiting at the factory gates. Among them is a class worse off than the forgotten man. I refer to the men over 45 years of age who have reached the dead-line of employability—the untouchables of America."

Miners Would Not Make Good Farmers, Roosevelt Is Told

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 14.—Tremendous difficulties would face the administration's plan to place unemployed miners in agricultural work, Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania admitted here Thursday. Earlier it was revealed that even under the recovery program approximately a third of the coal miners now idle will remain unemployed and that the administration was seeking some other work for which the miners might be suited.

Pinchot, after a talk with President Roosevelt, bluntly indicated that the business of finding some work other than mining for the unemployed miners would be a great problem. He pointed out most of the miners have done nothing but mining work all their lives.

"Let's look at the record"

After all, you have to know the company back of a product to know the product.

As a famous statesman has said, "Let's look at the record."

The Atlantic Refining Company dates from the very beginnings of the oil industry. It exported the first cargo of petroleum products ever to leave the United States.

It pioneered the first service station. Its fleet of tankers is today one of the largest flying the American flag, and its products are favorably known on five of the earth's continents.

For 68 years, Atlantic has been giving the public the finest products it knew how to make... at the lowest prices it could achieve. It has been in the forefront of every important gasoline improvement.

But Atlantic has not, and will not, descend to ballyhoo, or to destructive criticism of other companies, in an effort to merchandise its products. It believes with the Government in Washington that nothing is more harmful to American business than to have the factors within an industry engage in useless internal warfare.

When this happens, workmen are forced out of jobs. Trick products are foisted on the public, often dressed up in fancy colors or packages to make them seem new and better. Extravagant claims are made which cannot be supported. Nobody gains; every one suffers... the public most of all.

A few weeks ago Atlantic announced that it had found ways to make a new and improved WHITE FLASH.

We sincerely believe you will like this new motor fuel, and that it will save you money. But we are not going to bombard you with meaningless claims and "challenges." All we ask is that you try it... and let your own automobile tell you what kind of fuel it is.

U.S. PREPARES TO LICENSE MILK DEALERS OF NATION

By PAUL C. YATES, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In an unprecedented move to protect dairy farmers and consumers, the administration today prepared to license every milk dealer throughout the United States.

The blanket federal license, applying to all processors, wholesalers and retailers of fluid milk, will become effective in each "milk shed" as price-fixing agreements go into effect.

These marketing agreements will specify what the dairy farmers in each milk area are to receive for their product and what the consumers are to pay, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace declared.

The Chicago, Atlanta, Detroit and Los Angeles milk sheds will be placed under license in a few days, it was stated, with other areas subjected to rigid control as fast as the machinery can be set up.

Wallace said the license procedure was determined upon after he had conferred with President Roosevelt and Attorney General Cummings.

"It has their full approval," he added.

Formal hearings looking to marketing agreements have been held for the Chicago, Atlanta, Philadelphia, Detroit, Evansville, Ind., Los Angeles, San Diego and Oakland milk sheds.

"Each agreement will be uniform in the milk shed it covers," said Wallace. "The agreements will not necessarily be uniform in different milk sheds."

"Licenses will be issued to all processors, wholesalers and retailers of fluid milk. A federal administrator probably will be named in each milk shed to help enforce the agreements."

"There are no provisions governing wages or working hours."

Treasurer Pitts Announces That

He Is Ready To Pay Off $26,000 Bonds

With collections of $9,000 yesterday from banks through which county taxes can be paid, County Treasurer William O. Pitts announced this morning that he has sufficient money on hand to take up $26,000 worth of road improvement bonds which are due. The bond holders can get their money as soon as the bonds are presented.

Since the new card system went into effect the county treasurer's office has been materially helped by collections through banks. The banks which have been assisting are the Peoples of Ellwood City, Bessemer, New Wilmington, Volant, Wampum and Mahoning Trust.

Persons who have received cards showing the amount of their county taxes, can take the cards to these banks and pay the same as at the county treasurer's office.

Under the old system, this could not be done, as the taxpayer did not know how much his taxes were until he would go to the county treasurer's office. The banks are accepting the taxes as a matter of accommodation to their customers.

Treasurer Pitts says that collections have been picking up of late at the treasurer's office. This is the last month in which a discount of five per cent is allowed. After August 1 taxes must be paid at face.

In order to avoid a great rush at the end of the month, as is usually the custom, Treasurer Pitts suggests that all who can, should pay their taxes before the last week in the month.

Under the order of court it will now be kept up by Neshannock township.

Mayor Advises Post Office Strikers Of Their Rights As Such

Advise Is Given When One Of Them Is Brought In For Striking A Workman

Two men, one a man who had taken a job at the post office since the strike occurred there this week and the other one of the strikers, were brought in before Mayor Charles B. Mayne about 10 o'clock this morning, after the latter had assaulted the former and injured him. He advised the striker that he could go this time, but that the next instance of the kind would result in the imposition of a fine on the assailant.

During the hearing of the case a large group of strikers and sympathizers gathered in police court. Mayor Mayne then advised the strikers and those present as follows: "This is the first instance of the kind that has occurred since I took office. We will take no sides in the matter, but I wish to state that the strikers have no right to interfere with men desiring to work on this or other jobs where there is labor trouble."

"No striker can assault a man who is working on such a job while I am in office, and any who do in the future will be fined. If there are those, such as the man in this case, who think they desire to work on such a job, they have that right under the constitution and I shall see to it that this right is not interfered with. It is not a question of what I personally think in the matter, but a question of the law. These troubles can be settled without violence, and the striker may attempt all powers of persuasion within his power other than force to keep others from working, but when violence is attempted it will not be tolerated."

The man that had taken the job at the post office stated that he had been out of work and needed work, and asked the mayor what he should do. The mayor advised him that it was entirely up to him to decide what he wanted to do.

against Aaron G. Moore, cruelty; Theresa M. Rice against Walter P. Rice, desertion; Florence McConahy against Edwin McConahy, desertion; Ernest Johnson against Mary Johnson, adultery; Hazel M. Miller against Clyde A. Miller, cruelty; Anna Babiarz against John A. Babiarz, cruelty; Grace E. Palmeri against Stephen Palmeri, desertion; Clarence E. Bauder against Edith F. Bauder, desertion; June Montgomery against Chester Montgomery, cruelty; Gertrude E. Newbold against Charles Newbold, desertion; Natalie Prestipino against Mary Prestipino, cruelty; Sara Louisa Eberstadt against Lindley Eberstadt, desertion; Victor Kioivula against Katri Kioivula.

Little interest was shown in the cases, the only persons present being the litigants and their witnesses. In the cruelty cases the specific kinds of cruelty were detailed, and ran all the way from harsh words to blows.

M. B. Conti Hopes For Settlement

Makes Statement Relative To Labor Dispute At Post Office

M. B. Conti, holding engineer on the post office job and a representative of men employed on the post office, who have ceased work, pending the present dispute on the job, took exception this morning, in speaking with a representative of The News, to the statement of A. W. Kutsche, head of the A. W. Kutsche Company, contractors for the building, that the policy of the company "has been and will continue to be one where local labor is given preference over outside help."

Mr. Conti stated "We are hoping for an early settlement of the labor trouble at the post office job and that everything will work out satisfactorily. It is true that local labor is being employed to a considerable extent, but a review of the payrolls will show that what out of town help that is employed is being given a preference both in pay and the amount of time employed over the local men employed on the job."

"Three outside men, two colored men and a relative of the head of the concern, all from Detroit, are being employed every day and at higher rates of pay than the local men on the job. These outside men have been getting an average of forty hours work to about six hours work for local men and this has been the policy from the start and up to the present. Local labor is only employed when concrete is being poured or some other rush work is under way."

According to announcement by Frank Hinsdal there will be a "workers' picnic" on Sunday, July 16, at the Finnish camp, 11 miles east of New Castle on the Slippery Rock road. A ball game and free swimming will be features of the day.

Western Screen Star Appears With Circus Here On Saturday

Jack Hoxie, famous western screen star, pictured above is the star featured in the cast of the big Sparks managed Downie Bros. Circus which comes here for matinee and night performances on Mahoning avenue grounds tomorrow.

Included in the Hoxie company are many of his original Hollywood company including Miss Dixie Starr, leading lady of the company. Miss Starr, has played 'the lead' in many of Hoxie's western screen thrillers and is a star in her own right. Jack brings with him from the land of flickers his wonder horse 'Scout' and 'Bunk' his dog. In every Hoxie picture 'Scout' has always played an important part; and 'Bunk' has not confined his screen activities to the Hoxie westerns but has appeared in such screen masterpieces as 'The Shepherd of the Hills' and other equally famous screen classics.

The 1933 Downie Bros. Circus, a greatly enlarged show, offers a cast of some of the outstanding stars of spangeland. The Hanneford family of riders, featuring George, the incomparable riding clown, whose antics of tomfoolery ahorseback have made him famous throughout the length and breadth of the land, will share stellar honors with such circus celebrities as Clara Codona, petite aerialist, Violetta Hauser, said to be the only woman ever to successfully present a 'head balancing trapeze' act; Marion Shufford, Georgia beauty and equestrian star of note, with her blue ribbon winner 'Kentucky Mann', stars of the 1933 innovation 'Dancing Horses', Billy Papo, acrobatic clown, star of the revival of the 'Leaps', and hosts of other aerial and gymnastic stars of the realm of the sawdust world.

The two hour program is rounded out with an army of the world's funniest clowns, headed by Minnet DeOrlo and others equally well known; herds of performing elephants; and three groups of Kentucky's finest, thoroughbred in a big 'Liberty Act'!

Opening and closing spectacles of unusual color augmented by the revival of the noonday circus street parade all promise to make this circus day one to be long remembered.

Reserve Officer Killed As Plane Drops On Hillside

Probe Started By U. S. Army
Board Into Fatal Crash
For Michigan Airman

(International News Service)
MIDDLETOWN, Pa., July 14.—An investigating board of officers at the U. S. Army air depot here today was named to determine the cause of a plane crash which brought death to Lieut. R. M. Arrington, a reserve officer stationed at Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Arrington was enroute from New York to his home field and had taken off from the Middletown port yesterday afternoon a few minutes before his plane dived into a hillside a half mile from here and burst into flames.

An air depot officer said he believed Arrington tried to climb too fast and the engine stalled at about 1,000 feet and sent the ship into a spin.

Still, with the president sitting on the pork barrel, how could your congressman bring home the bacon?

Gifts To Salvation Army Are Growing

Friends Of The Army Are Gradually Realizing The Need Of The Army

Gradually the gifts of the people of this community to the Salvation Army in its appeal for $3,000 with which to finance the work for the coming year and pay off its existing indebtedness incurred during the past two years, when it has made no appeal for funds, are beginning to mount toward the sum desired. William White, chairman of the advisory board and Ensign Fred Goddard, officer in charge, and their assistants are working untiringly in their efforts to secure the money so badly needed by the army with which to carry on its worthwhile work in this community. Solicitation is progressing gradually but slowly as yet and those desirous of giving something toward the work of this worthwhile institution of the community may assist in bringing the appeal to a successful close in much quicker time by sending in their donations to Ensign Goddard at 133 Water street or John D. Kennedy, treasurer, at the People's Savings and Trust Company. Persons making a gift to this cause may be assured that utmost possible of every cent will be devoted to the cause of the unfortunate people of this community.

Minimum Wage Rates Set By New Coal Code

Wage Rates Subject To Varying Adjustments As Regards Conditions

CONDITIONS WILL LIKELY BE MET

Miners Will Have Right To Check Weighman Of Own Choosing

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Minimum wage rates under the bituminous coal industry code on file today with the administrator of the national recovery act are subject to varying adjustments, especially as regards economic conditions prevailing in the various soft coal fields of the nation.

These include:
"In those districts south of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi river and in the Morgantown and Fairmont district of West Virginia, the minimum day rates may specify a differential below the basis rates of not to exceed five per cent.

Special Conditions.
"It is recognized that in the states of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas special conditions exist and authority is given for joint agreement between the representatives of the mine workers and operators on the question of proper differentials.

"Existing higher differentials established in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana and Washington during past years by reason of higher living costs shall not be disturbed."

Employment conditions, under the code, will be based on the following standard:

"Except as hereinafter provided, all coal mined on a tonnage basis shall be weighed and paid for on the basis of 2,000 pounds ton.

"The miners shall have the right to a check-weighman, of their own choosing, to inspect the weighing of coal; provided, that where mines are now equipped to weigh coal a reasonable time may be allowed to so equip such mines; and provided, that in any case where on account of physical conditions and mutual agreement wages are based on measure or other method than on actual weights, the miners shall have the right to check the accuracy and fairness of such method, by a representative of their own choosing.

Semi-Monthly Wages.
"Wages shall be paid semi-monthly in lawful money or pay check at the option of the operators. Deductions may be made from the pay of employees for rentals, house coal, powder, mine supplies, store accounts, dues to the labor organization of employees, and for other legitimate items; but no deduction or discount shall in effect lower the actual rates of pay provided by this code.

"Employees other than maintenance or supervisory men or those necessary to protect the property shall not be required as a condition of employment to live in homes rented from the employer.

"No employee shall be required as a condition of employment to trade at the store of the employer."

"District agreements shall be made, not inconsistent herewith, dealing with local or district conditions to secure continuity of work, fix fair compensation for yardage and dead work, promote care in the preparation of coals for the market, provide the machinery for settling disputes, and safeguard the respective interests of employer and employee.

No Minors Employed.
"No person under 16 years of age shall be employed inside a mine. "The term 'employee' as used in this code shall not include a member of the executive, supervising and confidential force of the operators."

In pointing out the necessity of economic rehabilitation of the industry the code says:

"Sound economic principles require the sale of coal at such price or prices as will realize to the producer the fair average cost of production and sale, plus a reasonable margin of profit.

"Cost shall be computed in accordance with standard accounting practice and the rules and regulations promulgated by the bureau of internal revenue for the determination of federal income taxes.

Failure to maintain such prices as will return the fair average cost of production and sale shall be deemed a violation of this code."

The code concludes with an agreement on fair practices rules which are practically identical to those agreed upon by operators who met some time ago under the auspices of the National Coal Association.

BROTHERS REUNITED AFTER 68 YEARS

(International News Service)
NEGAUNEE, Mich.—For 68 years Frederick Gehrke, of Negaunee, and his brother, E. G. Gehrke, of Menominee, believed each other dead. They had lost track of one another shortly after the Civil war.

Recently, however, they were reunited when the latter's son learned of the existence of his uncle, Frederick, 97, through letters to their native village in Wisconsin.

Frederick came to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan at the age of 15 to work in the mines.

FAMOUS OLD FORT IS BEING RESTORED

(International News Service)
LOUISBURG, N. S.—Restoration of the old fortress of Louisbourg in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, which was captured by an expeditionary force from New England in 1745, is being undertaken by government engineers.

The fort, built by the French in 1700, was at one time the strongest fortress in North America and its capture by the expeditionary force from New England was one of the major military exploits of the 18th century. Engineers in charge of the work of restoration are keeping in touch with those who are undertaking some Colonial restoration work in Virginia and the inter-change of data concerning discoveries that are being made is proving helpful to both projects.

MUNICH WILL PAY HONOR TO WAGNER

MUNICH—The semi-centennial of Wagner's death will be marked by the revival of eleven of his operas here, starting July 18. Richard Strauss and Sir Thomas Beecham have been invited as guest conductors.

The Bavarian state theatre has been preparing for this Wagner feast for the past five years. All the works will be produced in entirely new settings, with the aid of the latest innovations in stage technique. Films will be used in some instances to supplement the theatrical performances.

FLAGPOLE STOLEN

(International News Service)
WOLLASTON, Mass.—Everett C. Burbank had a fine flagpole of which he was quite proud. Had, is correct. Burbank reported to police that some varmint had stolen his 35-foot flagpole. Police issued orders to halt anyone acting suspiciously with a 35-foot flagpole.

REPEAL ELECTIONS COST WYOMING $500

(International News Service)
CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Placing the name of Wyoming on the list of states favoring repeal of the Eighteenth amendment cost the state less than $500, according to unofficial estimates compiled by Gov. Leslie A. Miller.

Governor Miller explained that the low cost of the election, which resulted in a unanimous vote favoring repeal at the state convention, represented largely costs of printing, mailing and advertising the proclamation and instructions governing the convention. Counties bore the cost of county conventions, and wet and dry organizations the expense of precinct elections.

"This is no time," says General Johnson, "to get rich quick." We had noticed that, too.

Road Program Gives Work To Many Jobless

Highway Department Preparing To Launch Construction Operations

GIVE MAXIMUM WORK TO UNEMPLOYED MEN

HARRISBURG, July 14.—The provisions of the Industrial Recovery Act, which call for a maximum use of hand labor and for the adoption of a thirty-hour weekly employment schedule, offer no problem to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways in these details. For more than a year the department has applied both of these requirements in its extensive program of adaptation of highway improvement to work-relief.

Referring to these conditions under which the $18,891,004 appropriation to Pennsylvania as Federal-aid in highway construction must be expended, Secretary S. S. Lewis pointed out today that the department's plan of rural road improvement with its own forces offers a maximum of hand work. In the brushing out and drainage of rural roads, in the gathering of field stone and other base course materials, in the knapping of this stone in place, and in every other step of construction, hand labor is used wherever it can be applied. The department's force of laborers this year averages approximately 40,000. All, excepting the comparatively small force of permanent employees, are obtained from local relief boards, these boards being depended upon to select the most worthy individuals from their lists of applicants for employment.

By staggering this employment the department has been maintaining approximately a thirty-hour week. Although under this system it is not possible to obtain the same economy of operation as with a permanent force, Secretary Lewis says he believes the wide application of relief afforded fully justifies the extra cost. To cope with the increased accident exposure produced by this sort of operation, a safety organization was developed in the department with the result that accidents have been reduced greatly. For many months, the Secretary adds, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, under a policy of employment similar to that proposed by the Industrial Recovery Act, has afforded more work-relief than all other agencies in Pennsylvania combined.

National Farm Outlook

PITY THE WHEAT SPECULATOR!

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS Editor, The Farm Journal Written for Central Press

It is impossible not to feel sorry for the speculator in wheat, as he watches the price gyrations in the grain markets, and tries to appraise correctly the results of the various forces actively at work. Doubtless he does not, however, feel sorry for himself, but regards the present situation at the day of profit opportunity for which he has waited for the last three years. Doubtless much money is being made by those who guess correctly, as indeed much was made in 1931 and 1932 by those who kept their eye on the steadily growing surplus and sold wheat short.

It is necessary only to list the many factors the wheat markets have to consider, to see why the uncertainties are more and greater than for years.

First, of course, comes the very short harvest in the southwestern part of the United States, where lack of rain and a surplus of heat have played havoc with the yield.

this in the very center of the surplus-producing district. Next comes wheat, both in the north central states of the United States and in Canada. It is the succession of alarms from this source that frightened the market into its explosive rise from around 75 cents to around a dollar in three days. Indeed, we are privileged to see this year a good old-fashioned crop scare, such as many people thought was a thing of the past.

Against this prospect for the 1933 harvest, we have the vast carry-over from previous years, estimated at about 360,000,000 bushels, or more than half a year's consumption. But this carry-over figure can not be trusted too far. The "visible supply" of old wheat is accurately known, but how much wheat was held back on the farms, how much has been fed to stock or spoiled, and how much is for sale, no man knoweth.

To these familiar problems, the speculator finds three new ones added—the effort of the government to curtail acreage for 1934; the wheat conference at London, which is trying to do the same thing for Canada, Argentina and Australia, as well as the United States; and finally the unknown effect of money inflation, present and future.

It may be recalled that an international wheat conference two years ago fizzled out, because the nations could not agree on who was to export what, and in any case the United States had no machinery whatever for carrying out its part of an agreement, even if one were made. If a plan is agreed on at London, even then we are still uncertain whether the wheat acreage in the United States will be reduced. Wheat growers are an independent lot, who if they feel like it can withstand warnings, pleas, arguments, threats, and even government bribes.

Needless to say, the combined judgment of the speculators that wheat is worth twice as much this year as in July of 1922 is welcome news to all farmers and friends of farming. This in spite of the added confusion in cash wheat prices resulting from the U. S. government's "processing tax" on the wheat going into the flour mills. If farmers still hold much 1932 wheat, the price increase will do much for their purchasing power and happiness—two things that in agriculture (as elsewhere) are closely linked.

"Still, you can't argue that every big business man is dishonest."

"Yes, that is true—and yet whenever I shake hands with such a man I instinctively want to count my fingers afterward to make sure I have them all."

NOT LIKE OTHERS

And nobody needs to tell you!

"So you think all cigarettes are alike? Well, you just light up one of these and see for yourself that Chesterfields are really different."

"They're milder for one thing. And they taste better, too. But just you take a few puffs and you'll know they're the kind that satisfy!"

Gang Which Held Jake The Barber Planning New Attempt

HUNT ABDUCTORS WHO HELD FACTOR

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 14.—Every move of three of Chicago's wealthiest sportsmen was under the careful surveillance of government agents today, following a tip-off that the trio had been marked as kidnapping victims. The gang which kidnaped John "Jake the Barber" Factor and for 12 days subjected him to mistreatment until $50,000 ransom was paid, is said to be awaiting an opportunity to seize John D. Hertz, capitalist and former taxi cab and moving picture executive; Otto Lehmann, wealthy department store owner, and Warren Wright, rich real estate operator.

That the men are in imminent danger, was revealed by Factor in an interview with federal agents. Meanwhile, 250 policemen combed the northwest section of Cook county, territory ruled by the Touhy gang, searching for Factor's abductors. Officials are certain that the Touhy's engineered the abduction.

FARMERS GET HIGHER PRICES FOR PRODUCE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 14.—Because of unfavorable weather, the condition of crops in Pennsylvania declined during June. Yields of field crops, except corn and hay, and production of fruits, except apples, promise to be below average, the federal-state crop reporting service states.

Egg and milk production showed little change from a year ago. Prices paid farmers for agricultural products on June 15 were the highest since last January.

SPRAY BERRY BUSHES TO CHECK DISEASES

Anthracnose of raspberries and blackberries is unusually severe this year. This condition is attributed to the excessive amount of moisture during the spring months.

This disease can be diagnosed by ashy white spotting on the canes and spotting on the leaves. This year it is causing a large percentage of the berries to become dry and seedy.

A systematic yearly spray program will keep the disease under control. Growers should apply a dormant spray of winter strength lime-sulphur and a fall application of weak summer strength lime-sulphur solution after the old canes have been removed. This program should, under ordinary conditions, give commercial control of the disease and check heavy losses.

PROVIDE BEES SPACE FOR HONEY STORAGE

Bees need plenty of space for honey-making activities.

When the shallow frame super is about two-thirds full, raise the shallow super and the queen excluder and place the section super next to the hive body. When about two-thirds of the sections in this super are drawn out, place another empty section super on top of it. When about half of the sections in the first super are sealed, the second super may be placed below or next to the hive body. When additional supers are needed, place them below the queen excluder but above the other section supers. They may be placed next to the hive body later when the bottom super is about one-half finished.

When all but the two outside rows of sections in a super are completely sealed, remove the section super. The partly filled sections may be placed in the next super to be used as bait. If the finished sections are left on the hive, the bees continue to add propolis to them and spoil their appearance.

The appearance of the sections will be greatly improved if the tops are painted with melted paraffine before they are put on the hive. Melt the paraffine in the upper part of a double boiler, and then after the sections are all in the super paint the tops of the sections with the melted paraffine. This protects the sections against the staining from propolis.

STERILIZE CONTAINERS TO SAVE DAIRY LOSSES

Lawrence county dairymen can greatly lessen milk losses during hot weather by carefully scalding or sterilizing all milk pails, strainers, and cans. A careful check on the source of bacteria in milk during the summer shows that in most cases the great majority of bacteria can be traced directly to the milk utensils and to strainers.

Souring of milk is caused by the presence and action of bacteria in the milk. Milk fresh from the cow in most instances contains very few bacteria, and if the entrance of bacteria from outside sources can be prevented the keeping qualities of milk will be very much increased. All utensils should be immersed in boiling water or subjected to live steam—in a closed container. To pour boiling water over the utensils is not sufficient to destroy the bacteria.

Bacteria increase rapidly at temperatures above 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and on many dairy farms facilities are lacking to cool the milk below this point. Preventing bacteria from getting into milk through sterilization of utensils is a practical and simple means of improving its keeping quality.

REMOVE OLD CANES FROM RASPBERRY PLANTATIONS

Good crops of raspberries next year depend upon the attention given to the patches at the close of the present picking season. This involves the cutting out and removal of all canes which have just matured their fruit. Their removal and subsequent burning give the new canes a better cane to develop. With the red varieties it is convenient to thin out the young shoots at the same time. The more vigorous and healthy shoots will be left standing about six inches apart in the row, while the later and weaker ones will be removed. With the black raspberries, the canes which have just fruited will be taken out but none of this season's growth will be removed at this time.

Following this, the patches will be given their last thorough cultivation for the season. With the red raspberries the suckers will be dug away from the sides so that the rows will stand about 12 inches wide.

To supply the crying need for organic matter in the soil many growers will follow this cultivation with the seeding of a cover crop immediately. This will not only benefit the soil next season but also will encourage maturity of the canes so that they may escape winter injury. Millet or Sudan grass will make a satisfactory cover crop. Oats and buckwheat also are sometimes used. If rye, wheat, or any other crop which lives over winter is used, it is wise to keep the seed out of the row, for it will prove troublesome as a weed next spring.

Superphosphate at the rate of 200 to 300 pounds an acre often is used in seeding the cover crop, but high-nitrogen fertilizers should not be used at this time, lest they should stimulate late growth of canes and consequent immaturity.

CONTROL PEACH DISEASES

Growers can substantially reduce brown rot infection of fruit by spraying their peaches with self-boiled lime-sulphur about one month before they ripen. This spray also helps to hold the infection of peach scab in check.

Dusting peaches from 2 to 7 days before picking also has been found to increase their resistance to brown rot, which in many cases is the limiting factor in keeping peaches. Peach growers should spray as soon as possible such varieties as Carmen, Champion, Rochester, and other varieties that will start to ripen before August 15. Later varieties, such as Elberta, should be sprayed approximately four weeks before the fruit starts to ripen. The use of self-boiled lime-sulphur 5-8-50 is recommended, and growers should cover the fruit and leaves with a fine mist spray, since large drops of the solution will spot the peaches.

Tests conducted last year showed that the application of spray doubled the number of peaches remaining free from brown rot after 10 days. The application of a dust just before picking also reduced loss from the disease. Dusting is not recommended for all orchards, since on certain varieties which are somewhat resistant and in orchards where only small amounts of brown rot occur the application probably will be unprofitable.

However, where the disease is severe and the grower desires to prevent damage to his stored peaches it will often pay to apply a 90-10 sulphur dust or a pure sulphur dust to varieties especially susceptible to brown rot, such as Champion, Carmen, and Rochester. The dust should be applied to dry foliage when the temperature is below 90 degrees Fahrenheit.

III—Early Leaders Of Israel—Deborah

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Psalm 46:1—"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."

(The International Uniform Lesson for July 16 is Judges, chapters 4 and 5, the subject being "Deborah" and the Golden Text Psalm 46:1, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

In the period of about three centuries covered by the Book of Judges we have the record of the national leaders whom God used from time to time to deliver the children of Israel from the oppression of their enemies brought upon them by God in punishment for their sins. The outstanding characters among these are Deborah and Barak, Gideon, Jephthah and Samson.

That Deborah could overcome the prejudice against her sex and rise to the place of dominant national leadership in such a time as hers is of itself a high tribute to her strength of character. For 20 years her people had suffered oppression at the hands of Jabin, King of Canaan, and his cruel general, Sisera, and no man was forthcoming to serve as the nation's deliverer. But with Jehovah, in that day as in the later day of Paul of Tarsus, "there is neither male nor female," for he is no more a respecter of sexes than he is of persons. So God honored womanhood in choosing Deborah to be his prophetess, judge and deliverer of his people in that day. "Twenty years Sisera mightily oppressed the children of Israel. Now Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, she judged Israel at that time. And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah; and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment."

Deborah Enlists Barak Deborah's greatness is found in her ability to enlist the co-operation and fire the enthusiasm of others of genius, whom she gathered around her in the interest of national deliverance. It was she who found and inspired Barak to muster and lead a motley group of ten thousand poorly armed troops against the deadly chariots of Sisera, massed in far superior numbers in the Plain of Esdraelon, and with the help of Jehovah, rush upon them from the surrounding heights and put them to confusion and flight. Sisera learned, as Napoleon later learned at Waterloo, that it is a lie to say that "God is on the side of the heaviest battalions."

Deborah Inspires An Army A fine tribute is paid to Deborah's inspiring leadership when Barak makes her presence with the army the condition of his acceptance of its command: "If thou wilt go with me, then I will go; but if thou wilt not go with me, I will not go." Surely, no clinging vine is she! "And she said, I will surely go with thee; notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honor; for Jehovah will sell Sisera into the hand of a woman," a prophecy fulfilled in Sisera's death at the hand of Joel, who drove a tent stake through his head as he slept in her tent, worn out in his flight from Barak. It was Deborah who sounded the battle cry that inspired Barak and his men and drove them on to victory: "Up; for this is the day in which Jehovah hath delivered Sisera into thy hand; is not Jehovah gone out before thee? . . . And Jehovah discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak."

The Place Of Faith The explanation of this victory so clearly given of God is the fact that Barak ranks with the heroes of faith enshrined by the author of the Epistle to the Hebrews in that "Westminster Abbey" of his eleventh chapter, "who through faith—waxed mighty in war and turned to flight the army of aliens."

Roosevelt Will Spend August At Hyde Park, N. Y.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Roosevelt may set up a summer White House and spend virtually the entire month of August at his Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

He probably will leave here about the last of this month and if he carries tentative plans his secretary will be assigned office space somewhere in Poughkeepsie, a short distance from the Hyde Park estate.

Trains Turkey To Keep His Garden Free From Bugs

Keeping bugs from eating garden truck is not such a hard problem if you know how, according to John M. Daugherty, of 901 Croton avenue. Mr. Daugherty has a half grown turkey which he has trained to do the job. The turkey is kept in a little wire cage near the garden. Once a day or oftener, as may be necessary, Dr. Daugherty lets his turkey out. It immediately starts in to clean up the bugs on the garden truck. As a result Mr. Daugherty don't have to use sprays of any kind, and he has one of the best gardens in that part of the city.

"Every forward step you take makes enemies," says a philosopher. Especially of those who have seats on the aisle.

Expect Steel Code To Be Submitted

Four Codes Already Before National Recovery Administration

STEEL CODE ABOUT READY FOR PERUSAL

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 14.—Federal supervision of industry in the administration plan to gain prosperity moved forward today as four industries submitted their codes to the National Industrial Recovery Administration. A fifth industry agreement, that regulating steel, expected yesterday, was still awaited.

Of the four codes submitted, that of the coal industry received the immediate attention of administration Hugh S. Johnson. The other codes dealt with oil, general contracting, and the coals and suits manufacturing industry. Hearings on the oil and coals and suits codes will be opened the latter part of the next week.

The coal code contains a $5 per day basic wage scale for underground miners, $4 for those above-ground, differentials for the more skilled employees and a maximum work week of 40 hours.

Specifically it provides an 8 hour day and a 40 hour week for 26 weeks per year, to care for seasonal demands for coal and a 32 hour week for 26 weeks representing the slack period. An average 36 hour work week is allowed where production is continual.

The Ohio river is recognized as the boundary between northern and southern mines east of the Mississippi. A differential of 5 per cent below the northern scale is allowed for so-called southern mines.

John L. Lewis, united mine workers head, who sat with the operators explained that the code is primarily a recommendation to the government of "basic standards" to be applied to the bituminous industry of the country.

"It simply provides for the bituminous industry equality of opportunity," Lewis observed. He said the agreement was not a negotiation on wages, and that the code allowed collective bargaining.

Operators declined to indicate the effect on coal prices, beyond stating the code, if adopted by the government, will have the same effect on the coal industry as the recovery act is having in other lines.

Meanwhile the Indiana operators have a separate code with Johnson, while central coal associates claiming to represent 60 per cent of the bituminous tonnage, sat with the operators formulating the latest agreement, but indicating strong differences to be threshed out with Johnson.

The association of general contractors code would effect an average reduction of 27 per cent in working hours and govern expenditures under the $3,300,000,000 public works program.

The code asks maintenance of minimum wage rates set by the various state highway department and those on federal highways, until wage agreements can be reached through collective bargaining.

These rates average 35 and 2-3 cents per hour in 36 states with a minimum for unskilled labor, while 12 states have a varying rate of 29 and 1-3 cents to 40 cents per hour.

The independent oil producers had urged all independent associations to comply speedily with the purposes of the recovery act, and to incorporate provisions for minimum wages and increased employment.

They were urged to put such provisions in effect ahead of the codes if possible to speed employment. The committee recommended to all associations a schedule of 6 hours per day, with a maximum 36 hours per week, with a minimum scale of 50 cents per hour. The recommendations permit variations owing to regional differences.

John B. Elliott, Los Angeles, chairman of the independents pledged their support to the president.

PASSION PLAY DEFIES ECONOMIC SLUMP

(International News Service) CHEMNITZ—One theatrical venture which defies revolutions and economic slumps is the annual Passion play held each year in the natural theatre in the mountains near Ehrenfriedersdorf. Beginning in early June, two performers a week are held until the middle of July.

From July on performances of Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell," Kleist's "Hermannschlacht," and a folk-play dealing with the life of the miners of the mountains will be held on alternate weeks.

(International News Service) PARIS—"Only the strong should survive," opined Toussaint Santini, out of work Tunisian lithographer. So he shot two of the weaker sex to prove his point.

One of his two victims was seriously wounded, the other only slightly. Santini is believed insane by the prison doctor.

DILIGENT SHERIFF GETS WCTU PRAISE

County Board Gets Request To Shift Food Distribution

Head Of "Community Market" Offers Aid For Developing Plan Here

Deferring action until later, the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board has taken under advisement the proposal to transfer to state management the local food distribution points which the committee maintains.

E. S. Varnadore, director of the vast community market system throughout Pennsylvania, who for the past few days has been studying the situation here, presented the proposal to the county board at its meetings on Thursday afternoon.

After he had fully presented the state board's request concerning the further development of the commissary here, Mr. Varnadore made it clear that the efficiency and completeness with which the present food distribution plan operates was commendable. Under the new plan, state money would finance the operations.

The state director left for his Harrisburg office last night. Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting.

The Atlantic banker who talked so persuasively that he was set free after being kidnaped might prove a valuable delegate to the economic conference.—The Boston Transcript.

PROSPERITY FORMULA U. S. PLUS U. K.—O. K.

(International News Service) LONDON—"U. S. plus U. K. equals O. K."

This formula for prosperity was discovered by Sir Francis Goodenough, president of the Incorporated Sales Managers' Association. At the annual meeting of the Association Sir Francis elaborated upon his formula by saying:

"If—as President Roosevelt's message led us to hope—the United States would stand fast with the United Kingdom in giving real leadership to the world in economics and foreign policy, I believe that peace would be maintained in Europe and prosperity would return to its much harassed peoples."

Home Loan Bank Aides To Be Named In County

By ARTHUR C. WILKINSON
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14—Immediate relief for Pennsylvania owners of mortgaged homes appears certain as a result of action taken by Democratic leaders this week. After two weeks of delay, the Home Loan Bank Board named Jacob H. Mays of Weiser Park, Berks county, as Pennsylvania manager of the home owners loan association. Mr. Mays promptly announced he expected to be ready to receive applications within a week. His headquarters will be in Philadelphia with a branch office at Pittsburgh. Mr. Mays was appointed and given the oath of office on the same day. This unprecedented action was taken by the Home Loan Bank Board only after Joseph F. Guffy, state Democratic leader, and Warren Van Dyke, state chairman and collector of the port of Philadelphia, came personally to Washington and appealed to the White House for immediate appointment of Mays.

The two Democratic leaders rushed to Washington after chairman Stevenson of the mortgage relief group had said the day before it required more than an endorsement from Guffy to have Mays appointed. Mr. Mays will select an attorney and an appraiser as his aides in Lawrence county. These officials will not be on a straight salary but will be paid by the job. They will investigate the titles and appraise the value of Lawrence county homes whose owners seek federal relief under the mortgage relief program. Under the plan, it is proposed that holders of home mortgages exchange their liens for home owners loan corporation stock equal to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the mortgaged property or for cash equivalent to 50 per cent. Mortgages would then repay the mortgages to the federal government over a period of 15 years. Lawrence county applications for such relief will be handled through the branch office it is proposed to establish at Pittsburgh.

Elliott Takes

Secret To Grave

Pittsburgh Dentist Who Cured Stammering Goes To Grave, Operation Is Unknown

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 14.—Dr. Charles R. Elliott, 36, whose operations to effect a cure for stammering were marked by utmost secrecy, with even his anesthetist barred from the operating room, probably carried the secret to his grave, it was learned today.

Dr. Elliott, a dentist, who died Wednesday, had treated or partially cured six cases of stammering in recent years, it was reported here, although surgeons said they had no knowledge of the operations.

Medical and surgical agencies have sought for years a successful surgical cure for the affliction.

Relatives today planned a search of office records in an attempt to find whether the reticent dentist had placed on paper the secret of his operation. It was learned, however, that even the plea of his anesthetist to leave a sealed paper explaining the operation had met with refusal shortly before Dr. Elliott's death.

"If I have a premonition of death I will tell you the details," he told the anesthetist.

He was stricken suddenly with pneumonia on Wednesday and died within a few hours.

Patronage Blockade Lifted By President

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The patronage blockade began to break today as an executive order of President Roosevelt offered a speedy means of filling thousands of postmaster jobs.

The consternation which filled the hearts of job seekers when the presidential order was made, receded as it became apparent that Postmaster General Farley had been given wide power to appoint deserving Democrats if he desired.

Under the present method of selecting first and second class postmasters, a civil service examination—admittedly somewhat of a sham—is ordered. The appointment is made from the first three on the list. If the postmaster-general is dissatisfied, a new examination is ordered.

But under the new order, the postmaster-general can hold any one of the first three submitted by the Civil Service Commission to be disqualified. The commission then would go down the list to get other eligibles.

While the presidential order gives Democrats a chance to get the jobs they are after, President Roosevelt reiterated his faith in a real civil service.

He directed Farley to present legislation to Congress placing all postmasters under the civil service. The present law applies "real civil service" to 32,000 four class postmasters, but the 15,000 first, second and third class postmasters are admittedly political patronage.

The post office department has found that millions of dollars could be saved by rewarding merit in the naming of postmasters instead of selecting political favorites without experience.

By the time the legislation passes several thousand Democrats will be in office—perhaps a 50-50 Democratic and Republican lineup.

Hope To Avoid Summer Slump

Roosevelt Hopes To Avoid Summer Slump In Business

VIGOROUS DRIVE NOW UNDER WAY

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Roosevelt hopes this year to avoid the normal annual summer slump in business.

A vigorous drive directly to this end was seen in today's announcement that more than $100,000,000 from the new public works fund has been allocated in an effort to speed employment and increase buying power.

Today's allotment brought to $753,513,610 the total amount that has been pumped into the national industrial veins since Congress enacted Mr. Roosevelt's national recovery program and appropriated $3,300,000,000 for its operation.

Slump Looked For
"Over 250,000 men—months of work in every state, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands will be available shortly as a result of this action," said Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who is also public works administrator.

Normally speaking, a business slump of about 5 percent might be expected at this period of the year. The major objective of the speed with which the public works allotments were made, was to offset this annual slump as much as possible.

Latest statistics sent to the president reveal that buying power throughout the nation increased a little less than one per cent during the month of June. At the same time reemployment figures revealed that the small increase during the month kept pace with that of May, when about 400,000 idle went back to work.

GOLD "DIVINER" TO LEAD EXPEDITION

(International News Service)
LONDON—A British engineer who claims to be able to "divine" gold, using a steel spring instead of the water diviner's hazel twig, is to lead an expedition to find a new goldfield in South America.

He is Frank Cooper, of Yeovil, who has just returned from an expedition to find a treasure hoard said to have been buried by pirates on Cocos Island, the "Treasure Island" of the Pacific.

The expedition is depending largely on Cooper's powers to locate the gold.

(International News Service)
IOLA, Kas.—You can't fool a camera, especially an X-ray camera, one of which was called into use to prove the contention of Miss Grace Osborn, 19, who insisted she had swallowed a tooth brush.

Twenty hours after she had swallowed the brush, which was 6 1/2 inches long, it was removed from her stomach and Miss Osborn said "I told you so" to two physicians who had expressed frank disbelief of her statement.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—The growing congressional demand for federal regulation of the sale of firearms was endorsed by Senator Barkley (D) of Kentucky, who declared it would tend to break up kidnaping gangs.

Barkley expressed concern over the long activities of kidnapers in recent weeks. He pointed out that the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., in Albany, N. Y., of August Luer in Alton, Ill., and of John Factor in Chicago, followed closely upon similar crimes in Denver, St. Paul and Kansas City.

"The brazen audacity of kidnaping gangs, who violate every sense of decency, as well as the law, in kidnaping people for ransom, arouses the wrath of every good citizen," said Barkley. "The federal government, I am glad to see, is cooperating with the states to the full extent of its power to crush out these vicious bands."

Employment And Payrolls Climb In Northern Ohio

Dynamic Business Improvement Paced By Steel Industry Causes Bright Outlook

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, July 14.—Dynamic business improvement paced by the steel industry, Thursday served to pile up the figures of employment and payrolls in Northeastern Ohio.

During the last week, according to a survey, men marched back to work in district factories at the rate of almost 1,000 a day, and many wage increases were instituted.

For the 18th consecutive week, employment in 68 representative Canton industries showed a gain, passing the 12,000 mark and reflecting an increase of 4,000 over the previous week.

Cleveland started a public works program with 455 men employed, and private industries here and in Niles, Warren, Youngstown, Massillon and Akron rehired workers.

BUTLER, Pa., July 14.—Butler council talked for eleven years about widening half a block of Brady street, a section of route 68 intersecting Main street. But nothing was accomplished until beer came back.

Then council was handed $6,615 beer money by the county treasurer, and the city fathers proceeded to vote $2600 of this sum for widening the long-discussed street.

Bodies Of Three Texas Men Found Floating In River

Believe Three Men Slain Because Of Too Much Knowledge About Postal Robbery

(International News Service)
FORT WORTH, Tex., July 14.—Investigation of the deaths of Jack Sturdivant, 23, of Eula, J. B. Rutherford, 30, of Dallas, and Harry Rutherford, 28, of Abilene, missing since last Saturday, continued today, following the finding of their nude bodies late yesterday.

The bodies were discovered in the Trinity river near a bridge east of Riverside by Deputy Sheriff H. W. Rhodes who was on his way home last evening after having been with a searching party all day. Clothing of the missing men was found last Sunday.

The three are believed to have been slain because they knew too much about or quarreled with others over disposition of money obtained in a postal robbery here several months ago.

Four men are in jail here and two others are held in Dallas.

Giants Keeping Up Pace; Cubs-Pirates Gain

Blondie Ryan Returns To Giants Lineup And Terry-men Start To Win

PIRATES WHIP BRAVES 8 TO 3

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, July 14.—We would be the last person in the world to bring about an untimely end to Blondie Ryan, but Napoleon once said a great man should die at the height of his power and the idea seems to fit the New York Giants' shortstop like the skin over an apple. The man who proved he was the most essential player in baseball returned to the wars yesterday and clinched any argument about his importance as the Giants clicked perfectly to down St. Louis 3 to 2, the victory dropping the Cardinals to fourth place and enabling the New Yorkers to hold their three-game lead over the hard-pressing Chicago Cubs.

Ryan, although he can't hit yet as a first-year sensation without whom the Terrymen sagged like a bridegroom suddenly made a widower, whipped into two double plays, threw a man out while in a praying stance and nailed a man at second after Pitcher Carl Hubbell juggled the ball. He not only handled eight chances perfectly but inspired the once befuddled Giants to play errorless ball and his very presence seemed to give Johnny Vergez the idea of whacking a booming homer in the ninth with the score tied, 2 to 2.

Hurrah for the Irish and a couple of assehs... ah, for Johnny, this being Bastille day and Johnny being a Frenchman.

And speaking of uprisings—we mean Bastille day—the Cherubim Cubs continued to grin and uprise with Lon Warneke leading the way to a 4-1 smashing down of Brooklyn. Walter Beck gave the Bruins 11 hits, Warneke allowing eight. Four double plays proved the Dodgers' undoing.

Those Chicago White Sox continued their upheaval also and beat the Washington Senators 9 to 3. It was the third defeat of the Nationals in four days, cutting their lead in the American circuit over the New York Yankees to one game. Four Washington pitchers failed to halt the Chicago batsmen, who garnered 20 hits, with Kress getting four.

Lefty Gomez held the St. Louis Browns to five hits, while his teammates hammered Hadley and McDonald to develop a 12 to 0 triumph for the Yankees. St. Louis failed to get a man past second base as the Yanks made it six successes in a row.

Pittsburgh remained threatening in third position in the National league after turning back the Boston Braves, 8 to 3. The Pirates made 13 hits, finally sending Cantwell to the porcelains.

The Reds and Phillies changed places again, Cincinnati going back home to the cellar under a 4 to 3 beating by Philadelphia. A double by Davis in the third, scoring two runs, ice-boxed it for the Phils.

Four Games In Mushball League

Four games are on tap tonight in the East Side Mushball league. The games are scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock.

Spencers will go to Rose Avenue for a game with "Bung" Cutler and his East Side Merchants. St. Nicholas will tackle the Radiators at the Radiator Field. Young Yankees will help the Croton Merchants pry off their opening game lid at Castle Field. Oak A. C. will go to Cascade Park to play the St. Andrews team. This game was scheduled at Gaston Park, but St. Andrews is holding a picnic at the Park, and the Oak A. C. was willing to accommodate the Saints to the extent of playing at the Park.

Braves To End Four-Game Stay At Pittsburgh

Boston Turns In Seven Errors To Give Pirates Victory By Count Of 8 To 3

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 14.—Boston pulls stakes and leaves Pittsburgh after their single game with the Pirates today, ending a four game series that brought out both spectacular and poor playing.

After Wednesday's sensational exhibition of offensive power, Boston turned around yesterday and committed seven errors to help the Pirates along to an 8-3 victory.

Hal Smith weathered a fifth inning three-run rally of the Braves to coast to his fourth win of the season. The Pirates broke loose in the eighth frame after Boston had tied the count to push five runs home ending a 3-3 score which held through three innings.

After a long layoff Earl Grace, Pirate catcher, celebrated his return to activity by getting two of the locals thirteen hits.

Mahoning A. A. Wins First Half Title

Hutnic Hurls Splendid Ball And Proves Hero Of Game

BAD BREAK COSTS TIGERS TWO RUNS

Mahoning A. A. today owns the first half championship of the Lawrence county twilight baseball league, having defeated the Tigers of the west side 2 to 1 yesterday at Centennial field.

Each team had won one game, the third ended in a deadlock and the tilt yesterday was the payoff. Steve Hutnic was the hero of the deciding game which was witnessed by more than 5,000 fans, the biggest crowd that has watched a game at the enclosed field.

Hutnic was in fine form. His curves broke fine and when support was needed, he got it from Nick Caney's players. He produced his own breaks, especially in the third and fourth. After drawing a walk in the third he scored from third after Huff flew out to center.

Stolen pitched for the Tigers. He hurled a nice game. Stone allowed only one more hit than Hutnic and in the second inning it appeared as though he would prove the hero of his team. A ball he hit struck Gall, who was running from second to third, on the ankle and Umpire Price called Gall out. It made the third out. Had the sharp driven ball not struck the runner, both Gall and Hughes would have scored. After this frame not a Tiger reached third base until the ninth inning.

Tigers Score.
In their ninth inning rally Chill grounded out, Hutnic to Perritt. Summer reached first on Huff's error. Gall drew a walk and McCormick batted for Hughes. He grounded short and Gall was forced out at second, Orlando to Huff. McCormick reached first. Hoffmeister batted for Stone. He singled to center, scoring Summer with the Tigers' only run, McCormick reaching second. The fans went into a frenzy and there were expectations of another deadlock as darkness was creeping over the ball yard. Jackson drew the ball to Huff, who threw him out at first, ending the game with the title in Mahoning's possession.

After Umpire Price ruled that Stone's grounder had struck Gall in the second inning and the runner was called out Manager Alec Black of the Tigers objected strongly to the decision and notified the umpire-in-chief, Dutch Ross, the game would be played under protest. Commissioner Parks also said he saw the ball strike Gall.

Under the rules there can be no appeal from decisions based on the umpire's judgment and in view of Parks' assertion he saw the ball strike Gall, it was indicated by both Ed Fritz and Parks, two of the three commissioners (Dart not being present at the game) that the protest had no legal status.

Very Big Crowd.
The crowd filled every seat in the grandstand and bleachers. A heavy line stood almost to the fence along the left field foul line and also along the right field foul line to the fence in right field. In the second inning all the young boys were allowed to

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

There's one rule that few golfers have recognized. A rule that is not of my making or the setting of any group of individuals. It's something based on natural laws which must be recognized if the best results are to be had.

This is the rule:
You can't make a good downswing unless you've made a good backswing.
Think it over. Keep it in mind and you'll soon learn that most of your shots are spoiled right in your backswing.
Check up on each stage of your wind-up. And even if the backswing isn't all that you want it to be don't make your swing worse by trying to adjust during your downswing.

Akron Nine To Play Universals

Game Here At 3:15 o'Clock Saturday Should Prove Fast Contest

LOWERS MAY HURL FOR LOCAL TEAM

Fans who crave a fast sandlot game will see one Saturday afternoon at Centennial field when the Universal Sanitary club opposes the Akron Goodyears. The game will start at 3:15 o'clock D. S. T.

The Goodyears this season have one of the best combinations in the north side won from the E. & A. Field. J. Conti pitched a fine game having 18 strikeouts for the Sluggers. L. Quarto did the hurling for the Stars. Anyone wanting games with the Italian Sluggers can arrange them by calling 5675-J and asking for Alec Nocera.

CATHOLIC MIDGETS
Catholic Midgets mushball team handed the Pearson Indies a 18 to 13 setback. E. Yeague was the feature hitter with two homers. Turco was the winning pitcher. The Catholic Midgets will play the Highland U. P. team Saturday at Highland field. The Catholics have won 17 games this year.

BOOSTERS TAKE TWO
Boosters mushball team of the north side won from the strong Penn Power All Stars Wednesday night at Spencer field 20 to 15. On Thursday evening the Boosters won from the Highland U. P. team 23 to 16. McCleary was the winning pitcher. The Boosters hit the ball hard.

CARNEGIE WINS
Carnegie Midgets mushball team scored their twenty fifth victory when they beat the Car Barn Sluggers 40 to 5 on Keninger field. Lascolo midgets beat the Division Pirates in another mushball game 22 to 2 on the Skraush field. Canyon A. C. had no trouble beating the Third U. P. mushball team 23 to 4 on the Canyon field.

IMPERIALS WIN
Imperials overwhelmed the Browns 18 to 1 on Elder's field yesterday. J. McKee hit a triple. Perry and Freed had six strikeouts between them while Zahner fanned nine and allowed only three hits.

OVERWHELM COALTOWN
Ryantown walloped Coaltown 17 to 1 yesterday. Captain Maher featured the game with a double play assisted. Hareman, More and Covert came through with triples. Hill fanned six Coalowners, and allowed only six hits while Donaldson passed four and allowed 20 hits.

Names Umpires For Saturday Games
Price and Bishop will umpire the Ors-Tigers, Fruit and Mehalic will arbitrate the P. N. A.-Bessemer tilt and Dunn and D. Ross will be in charge of the West Pittsburgh-Castle Flats games Saturday according to Lou Glitch, director of umpires in the Lawrence circuit.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Volant and the Colored Monarchs will play at Volant instead of in New Castle, Saturday. A circus is to show on the Monarchs field. The colored boys have a good team. They've secured the best colored players in the New Castle-Youngstown district. They hope to capture the second half race in the Lawrence County league.

Hutnic and Stone pitched good ball in the titular tilt at Centennial field yesterday. The breaks were against Stone. Hutnic drove out the hit that scored Mahoning's winning run and he is a popular boy in the Seventh Ward today. If Stone's hit had not struck Gall, the game would probably have been deadlocked 2-2.

Crowds and crowds and the crowd that witnessed the game was the biggest Centennial field has had. It shows interest in the Lawrence County league teams. One foul ball found the only hole in the screen to pass through and strike a woman. However, she came up laughing.

One of the nice things about the managers was that when all of the dimes possible to get were collected they opened the right field fence and let in a wave of children. It was the dash of the Ten Year olds and it is those 10 year olds who will be the baseball heroes of tomorrow. Letting them in free helps baseball.

Mash made a great shooting catch after a long run of Paul McCullough's fly ball to left in the second frame. He came clear from center to left. After he caught the ball he took a nose dive but retained the ball. He got an ovation.

Had Paul McCullough not hurried the day previous he would have been injected into the pitching box in all probability. Manager Black essayed to use Stone and he did very good. He fanned two less and allowed one more hit than Hutnic.

Nick Caney, manager of the Titular Mahoning A. A., was tickled pink with the victory yesterday. Nick has hustled hard to make Mahoning the champions. Following the game the entire team held a celebration in honor of the victory.

Owing to an injury sustained by Vince Dundee he will not fight Teddy Yarosz in Pittsburgh, July 24. The bout has been postponed until a later date.

Midget Wolgast, flyweight champion, got the surprise of his last few fights when Lew Farber outpointed him in 10 chapters at Coney Island last night.

Price and Bishop will umpire the Ors-Tigers, Fruit and Mehalic will arbitrate the P. N. A.-Bessemer tilt and Dunn and D. Ross will be in charge of the West Pittsburgh-Castle Flats games Saturday according to Lou Glitch, director of umpires in the Lawrence circuit.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND
Volant and the Colored Monarchs will play at Volant instead of in New Castle, Saturday. A circus is to show on the Monarchs field. The colored boys have a good team. They've secured the best colored players in the New Castle-Youngstown district. They hope to capture the second half race in the Lawrence County league.

FOR BUSINESS(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 14.—A new wave of profit-taking, following the one at the close of yesterday's up-rush, today weighed the stock market down as grains weakened and the dollar turned upward.

The selling was most apparent in the rails, utilities, and industrials. There was some offset in another bullish demonstration in the alcohol, packing shares, silvers and a few individual issues like Eastman Kodak and Westinghouse.

News continued cheerful with the week-end trade reviews reporting no slackening in the upturn in business. The London stock market enjoyed a boom, which cheered the bulls as indicating the possibility England would go in for inflation also.

On the other hand, the $97,000,000 gain in brokers loans and the slackening in the open market purchase of U. S. bonds by the reserve system served to temper speculative enthusiasm and bring considerable profit-taking.

Losses in grains ran to more than 2 cents a bushel in rye, reflecting cashing in as a result of the sweeping advance since Saturday. Bonds tended higher. Sterling led the decline in foreign currencies, losing 2 cents to 47.78.

Trading continued at a brisk pace but was far under yesterday's tremendous total. The ticker was 3 minutes behind in the early dealings but caught up before the end of the first hour.

The demand for repeal issues was unabated and gains running to 4 points were quickly chalked up in this group. The alcohol makers continued to set the pace.

Strength in Eastman Kodak was tied up with the rise in silver. The company is one of the world's biggest users of this metal. Coppers were steady but sluggish while oils marked time. Utilities failed to recapture yesterday's buoyancy.

Auburn spurred at the opening but turned down later as the motors came under pressure. Aviation shares were firm. U. S. Steel and American Telephone were backward leaders. General Electric was stimulated by the run-up in Westinghouse.

Rails were heavy, particularly Union Pacific and Atchafalpa, despite the expectation of a favorable traffic report tomorrow. Farm stocks were down with wheat and cotton.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 14.—Mostly routine matters came up for consideration and discussion at the monthly meeting of the Ellwood City board of education in the Lincoln High school last night.

The board awarded the coal contract to the Knight Company of this city. It was the lowest bidder out of seven.

Secretary G. Blaine Hancher reported that nearly all the supplies necessary for the opening of school soon, are in. The tuition rate for the school term of 1933-34 was also approved by the board. It had been prepared and set at $7.50 per month by Superintendent of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong.

In conjunction with this Supt. DeLong stated that practically all the tuition districts have been contacted and satisfactory replies in regards to the paying tuition, are coming in. The accounts of Chewton, Koppel, and Big Beaver Township are practically settled. If no replies are received from the remaining township in which he plans to settle the matter with the parents of tuition pupils. The townships are given to August 1 for their replies. The districts are only asked to pay a proportionate percentage of their income.

The building committee and Architect Byron McCandless announced that satisfactory repairs to the West End and Circle school buildings are expected to be completed by the end of the week.

Request of the local Art Guild for the use of a room in the Lincoln building as a studio was granted by the board, with the provision that arrangements be made with the superintendent.

Upon motion of Director J. A. Mayne the board voted to give council one more week in which to select a qualified tax collector before the petition of the court of sessions to appoint. According to some information given out the borough council will announce their tax collector very shortly. He will be able to furnish all the necessary requirements of a tax collector, it was revealed.

(International News Service)
BILLINGS, Mont.—William Dickenson, 17, rushed to a Billings doctor's office with a story of having swallowed 65 cents. Coming out of the rear of a pool hall, he said, he placed the money in his mouth when he saw two suspicious-looking men he thought might hold him up. They held him up and slugged him. He swallowed the money, he said. Dr. W. R. Morrison examined Dickenson and removed all the "money" he could find—a brass pool ball chip lodged in his throat.

Veteran Philadelphia Policeman Killed By Five Bandits In Daring Holdup

BELIEVE LOOT IS NEAR TO $10,000

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Five killer-bandits invaded the offices of the Allied Kid Company here today, shot and killed a veteran policeman and escaped with a payroll estimated at between $7,000 and $10,000.

The policeman, Charles Stockberger, had been assigned to guard the payroll while it was being counted.

Two employees of the plant, Leo Cleary and Robert Moody, miraculously escaped death or serious wounds as slugs from the five guns ricocheted about the building.

Stockberger, 50-year-old and a veteran of 11 years on the force, attempted to draw his gun as he lay dying on the floor. A final salvo of bullets ended his life.

Because the bandits appeared to have an intimate knowledge of the layout of the plant, police said they believed the holdup was staged by former employees.

Federal Grand Jury At Pittsburgh Leaves Balloting Probe Up To Prosecutor

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 14.—Allegheny county's district attorney office today was confronted with an opportunity to push forward the investigation of vote-cheating which enabled the federal grand jury to indict more than 100 political leaders and election board members in the Pittsburgh district.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park who has already indicated he would not ignore the grand jury's findings, was provided added incentive to proceed in a broad hint from the jurors yesterday that "illegal registration was not a matter over which federal courts have jurisdiction."

The grand jury recessed yesterday after a month's probe of congressional elections, handing down a second indictment against state Senator James J. Coyne, his brother Tom and others of the politically elect.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Neighborhood is an attribute that all of us need more of, but there are times when folks run you down too. You can be a good neighbor but sometimes it gets over into being a good thing, and just confidentially it does seem to me that we're getting into that class here in New Castle, insofar as our treatment of Ohio drivers is concerned.

There's a stop sign at Butler avenue and East Washington streets that is printed in English, in letters that can be distinguished for a square, and the sign is there to indicate danger. Yet every day, nine out of ten Ohio drivers breeze off Butler into East Washington street totally disregarding the stop sign and endangering other cars.

It isn't that they can't see the sign, and certainly they aren't all on emergency calls. It's just that they have gotten into the habit in New Castle of tossing all traffic prohibitions to the winds and getting away with it. If the violations were reciprocal in Ohio it wouldn't seem so bad, but over there they slap you down hard and fast for the slightest violation.

We're not advocating any petty campaign of snooping to catch Ohio drivers, but we have the right to expect that they will observe our rules for safety.

And I'm wondering what that Michigan man did with the ticket he got the other afternoon for parking double in Mercer street. They don't extradite for misdemeanors of that nature and he probably went on his way with a souvenir.

Some of his newly made friends have been wondering why Miles Myers, government engineer on the postoffice job, seemed to feel so at home in Pennsylvania. The secret came out yesterday. Myers is originally from Berkeleyville, which is this side of Franklin, as you probably knew. Years ago one of his great grandfathers was one of the founders of Portersville which gets him rather close to New Castle.

His home is now in Washington, D. C. (Myers, not his grandfather.) when he's home. Usually he's out over the United States, doing some job or other for your Uncle Sam.

He came here from a job in Texas, and his next job may be in North Dakota or South Carolina. He's a flitterer, flitterer from here to there and back again.

Depredations in camps out along the streams of the county are getting scarcer since a few of the gentlemen have been smacked into the cooler. Any time you can't have a cottage out along the creek without somebody busting in and cleaning out everything not too heavy to carry, it's time to give somebody a reserved seat back of the steel grill work they have up in the county jail.

Detectives Have Real Experience In Horror House

Snakes, Bear And Skeleton Gives Pair Of Chicago Officers Jitters

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 14.—Detectives Paul Mazelka and Thomas Barrowman requested furloughs today. Because they have the jitters.

Seems the pair picked up Charley Curtis, negro, who was carrying two expensive pistols.

"Stolen?" they asked. "Absolutely, boss. And I got prettier ones at home. Here's the key." They went to Charley's house, opened a box that looked as though it might contain guns.

Out leaped two dozen snakes. The sleuths rushed to a door, swung it open and a skeleton rattled its bones at them.

They rushed through another door and a huge black bear lunged at them. And almost didn't miss.

Back at the police station Charley explained that he used the bear, skeleton and snakes as entertainment at lodge meetings.

He won't attend any more lodge meetings for some time to come.
